Paris, Washington DC, 16.02.2020, 20:25 Time

USPA NEWS - Meeschaert AM, the asset management company of the Meeschaert group, today publishes the first impact study of its MAM France PME fund. This new study is part of the strategic choice to create and publish thematic footprints for several of its investment strategies. The teams led by Aurélie Baudhuin, Deputy Managing Director of Meeschaert AM and Director of SRI research, have published since 2018 the social footprints of MAM Human Values, the water, food and social footprints of MAM Transition Durable Actions, or carbon footprint of its range of SRI Equity funds.

Meeschaert AM, the asset management company of the Meeschaert group, today publishes the first impact study of its MAM France PME fund. This new study is part of the strategic choice to create and publish thematic footprints for several of its investment strategies. The teams led by Aurélie Baudhuin, Deputy Managing Director of Meeschaert AM and Director of SRI research, have published since 2018 the social footprints of MAM Human Values, the water, food and social footprints of MAM Transition Durable Actions, or carbon footprint of its range of SRI Equity funds.

The survey carried out for MAM France PME measures the growth in employment and growth in French companies with high potential in the portfolio. The fund notably supports micro-capitalizations in the technological sector. This new measure of extra-financial impacts illustrates the way in which finance is useful for the common good on a daily basis, by highlighting the creation of jobs and the emergence of new French players internationally. through his investment choices

"The" real "economy and investment in listed assets are too often seen to be in opposition.-----

The development of the measurement of extra-financial impacts is one of the many tools we have today to help understand the many areas in which finance is indeed "real". Better than words, this imprint testifies to the deep anchoring in the economy of these financial investments. She recalls that everyone at their level can be a responsible player by selecting an investment based on financial criteria, but also extra-financial, "said Cédric Meeschaert, President of the Meeschaert group.
